

---

Flagships have stood still for too long, comfortable in their set-in-stone layouts and predictable merchandising. All the while, consumers are moving at blink-of-an-eye speeds. Something's not adding up.

TOBE says: treat your flagship like a pop-up. Be creative, flexible, experimental, and, most importantly, ever-changing.